RESTON COMMUNITY CENTER SEARCH FOR NEW EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR UNDERWAY

RESTON, VA — The Board of Governors of the Reston Community Center announced at their February meeting that the position of Executive Director of the RCC is currently being advertised. Local and national outlets for associations, non-profits and recreation/cultural organizations have the position description and employment opportunity posting, and it can be found on the Fairfax County Government web site, www.fairfaxcounty.gov/living/employment/. The position became vacant upon the resignation of RCC's Executive Director, Bonnie K. Freeman, to take a position at the National Visionary Leaders Project in Washington, D.C.

The Executive Director leads a professional staff of 38 merit employees and up to 250 exempt service employees in planning and presenting a wide range of leisure-time programs and community events. Reston Community Center facilities include the main facility at Hunters Woods Village Center, as well as a smaller facility located in Lake Anne Village Center. RCC programs are offered at other locations throughout Small District 5, or Reston. The two facilities together total over 60,000 square feet and include a professional theatre, indoor aquatics complex, ceramics studio, art gallery, photography studio, woodshop, computer lab and numerous meeting rooms. The Executive Director reports to an appointed nine-member Board of Governors and to the Deputy County Executive.

Applications are being accepted by the Fairfax County Government Human Resources department through February 29, after which they will be reviewed by the Board of Governors Executive Search Committee.
